

DAVID CRISTAFORE

Cell: +1 (971) 258-2839

Email: david.r.christafore@gmail.com

EDUCATION

Ph.D., Economics, West Virginia University, 2010

Concentrations: Urban/Regional and Development Economics

Dissertation: Three Essays on Gay and Lesbian Rights Legislation

Dissertation Advisor: Santiago Pinto, Ph.D.

B.A., Economics, University of Pittsburgh, 2004

US EXPERIENCE

Lecturer, University of California Merced, 2020-2022

Courses: Statistical Inference, Health Economics, Labor Economics

Instructor, Montana State University, 2019-2020

Courses: Honors Economics, Intermediate Microeconomics, Intermediate Macro with Calc

Teaching Assistant Professor, Temple University, 2017-2019

Courses: The American Economy, Principles of Microeconomics

Visiting Assistant Professor, Weber State University, 2016-2017

Courses: Principles of Microeconomics, Statistics for Business & Economics, Research Methods

Visiting Assistant Professor, University of California Riverside, 2015-2016

Courses: Statistics for Business & Economics, Intermediate Macroeconomics, Intermediate Macroeconomic Theory II, American Economic History, Health Economics, International Trade, Population & Development

Instructor, West Virginia University, 2007-2010

Courses: Principles of Macroeconomics, Principles of Microeconomics, International Economics

INTERNATIONAL EXPERIENCE

Instructor, Framingham State University China Summer Program (Beijing, China), 2019-

Courses: Intermediate Microeconomics, Intermediate Macroeconomics, Principles of Microeconomics, Organizational Behavior

Instructor, English First (Moscow, Russia), 2015

Courses: Beginner, Intermediate, Advanced English

Assistant Professor, Yeungnam University (Daegu, Korea), 2013-2014

Courses: International Business Issues, International Economic Issues

Assistant Professor, Toros University, (Mersin, Turkey), 2012-2013

Courses: Principles of Microeconomics, Math for Social Sciences

Assistant Professor, Konkuk University, (Seoul, Korea), 2010-2012

Courses: Welfare Economics, International Economic Issues, Labor Economics, Principles of Microeconomics, Beginner and Intermediate English

PUBLICATIONS

“The influence of land use regulation on the probability low-income neighborhoods will gentrify” (with S. Leguizamon). Urban Studies 2020.

“Taste-based discrimination, tolerance and the wage gap: where does economic freedom help gay men?” (with S. Leguizamon). Kyklos 72(3) 2019: 426-445.

“Neighbourhood inequality spillover effects of gentrification” (with S. Leguizamon). Papers in Regional Science 98(3) 2019: 1469-1484.

“Is ‘Gaytrification’ a real phenomenon?” (with S. Leguizamon). Urban Affairs Review 54(5) 2018: 994-1016.

“Willingness to pay for hospital access in areas with high concentrations of blacks” (with S. Leguizamon). Review of Regional Studies 45(1) 2015: 87-104.

“Spatial spillovers of land use regulation in the United States” (with S. Leguizamon). Housing Studies, 30(3) 2015: 491-503.

“Revisiting evidence of labor market discrimination against homosexuals and the effects of anti-discriminatory laws” (with J.S. Leguizamon). Review of Regional Studies, 43(2-3) 2013: 213-238.

“Are black neighborhoods less welcoming to homosexuals than white neighborhoods” (with S. Leguizamon and J.S. Leguizamon). Regional Science and Urban Economics, 43(4) 2013: 579-589.

“The influence of gay and lesbian households on house prices in conservative and liberal neighborhoods” (with S. Leguizamon). Journal of Urban Economics, 71(2) 2012: 258-267.

CONFERENCE PRESENTATIONS

Southern Regional Science Association Conference, Memphis, TN, 2017

Title: Neighborhood inequality spillover effects of gentrification

Southern Regional Science Association Conference, Washington, DC, 2013

Title: Disentangling the effect of tolerance on housing values: how levels of human capital and race alter this link

Southern Regional Science Association Conference, San Antonio, TX, 2009

Title: A spatial model to investigate the effect of state and local gay rights laws on state migration flows

Southern Economic Association Conference, San Antonio, TX, 2009

Title: A difference-in-difference analysis of the effect of state anti-discrimination laws on the labor market outcomes of gays and lesbians

SUBMITTED REFEREE REPORTS

Journal of Regional Analysis and Policy, 2021

Papers in Regional Science, 2021, 2019

Journal of Economics and Finance Education, 2016

Journal of Regional Science, 2015

International Journal of Public Policy, 2012

Applied Research in Quality of Life, 2010